

Abstract of the Disclosure

A three-dimensional curved-surface model can be estimated by using both two-dimensional outlines 5 obtained from a piece of image photographed from the top and a restriction that the paper is rectangular. Then, only the three-dimensional distortion in the image can be corrected based on the obtained three-dimensional curved-surface model.